Whenever steel wages and employee benefits go up by one cent an hour - poof - the cost of making steel goes up 30 million dollars a year! And when costs go up, sooner or later you will have to pay a higher price for all the things you buy.
 Steel companies must do more than meet just the direct cost of higher wages, which amount to about $15 million for each penny of higher pay. They must also pay higher labor costs in the price paid for all of the materials, supplies, transportation and everything else they buy. This indirect labor cost amounts to another $15 million at the very least.
 If these pennies per hour of higher wages in steel or any other industry are not accompanied by corresponding increases in production efficiency, the result is inflation.
 Inflation benefits no one.
 It dips into the pocketbook of everyone - housewives, wage and salary earners, business and professional people alike.

The American Iron and Steel Institute brings you this message from the steel industry because Inflation robs us all
